

Method Sheet

The frame is as much the lesson as the experiment.

Question we are answering

What we changed

What we measured, and in what units

What we kept the same

What happened

Observation Table

Room for units, and room for the reading that looks wrong. Space for the odd result is what stops it being quietly dropped.

Attempt	What we changed	Measurement + unit	Notes

A reading that looked wrong, and what we did about it

Project Planner

Projects are where the Wednesday problem does its worst work, because the deadline is far away until it is not.
